FALCON PLAYHOUSE

2

1

Falcon Playhouse is an organization that is one of the most active at F.H.S. Traditionally they put on two productions a year, starting from scratch. This year, because of financial cut-backs in the Fairless District, one major production was performed. The quality of their productions is evident when anyone sees the amount of work done before a show.

3

1.

Thespians take their membership in this organization very seriously. To be eligible for membership and the various degrees, students must earn points based on their participation in various activities related to the production of the play.

1. The Falcon Playhouse Thespians do their 'own thing' for their group picture. 2. Tammy Tormasi and Christine Maly help design props for the production of "Grease." 3. Dwayne Lallathin and Cindy Hewitt win a dance contest during the performance of "Grease."

2. The Falcon "D" comes up with a big play.
3. Brett Csonka boots an extra point.
4. The defense holds as Northwest's Mike Wooden is scalped.

3.

4.

1.

2.

3.

The Flock's most valuable player award went to senior Chris D'Anniballe, a running back. Other seniors who contributed a lot during this long season include offensive linemen Mike Gerber and Keith Numbers, quarterback Scott Shepler, backs Doug Weisgarber and Todd Arney, along with Doug Fowler and Scott Savage. Stunt-out defensive players include Jerry Ungashick, Chris Butzer and Nick Schlabach.

1. Todd Arney lunges toward the goal. 2. Doug goes after the ball . . . but to no avail. 3. Weisgarber speeds past a Trojan tackler. 4. The defense closes in. 5. Chris D'Anniballe zooms toward the goal with a pass.

5.

Compliments of Dr. and Mrs. Millard B. Niver

GOLF

1. The Golf team suffers through another exhausting practice session. 2. Ken DeBos strikes a pose and utters a few choice words concerning his performance. 3. Brian Spurgeon gets a workout in the rough.

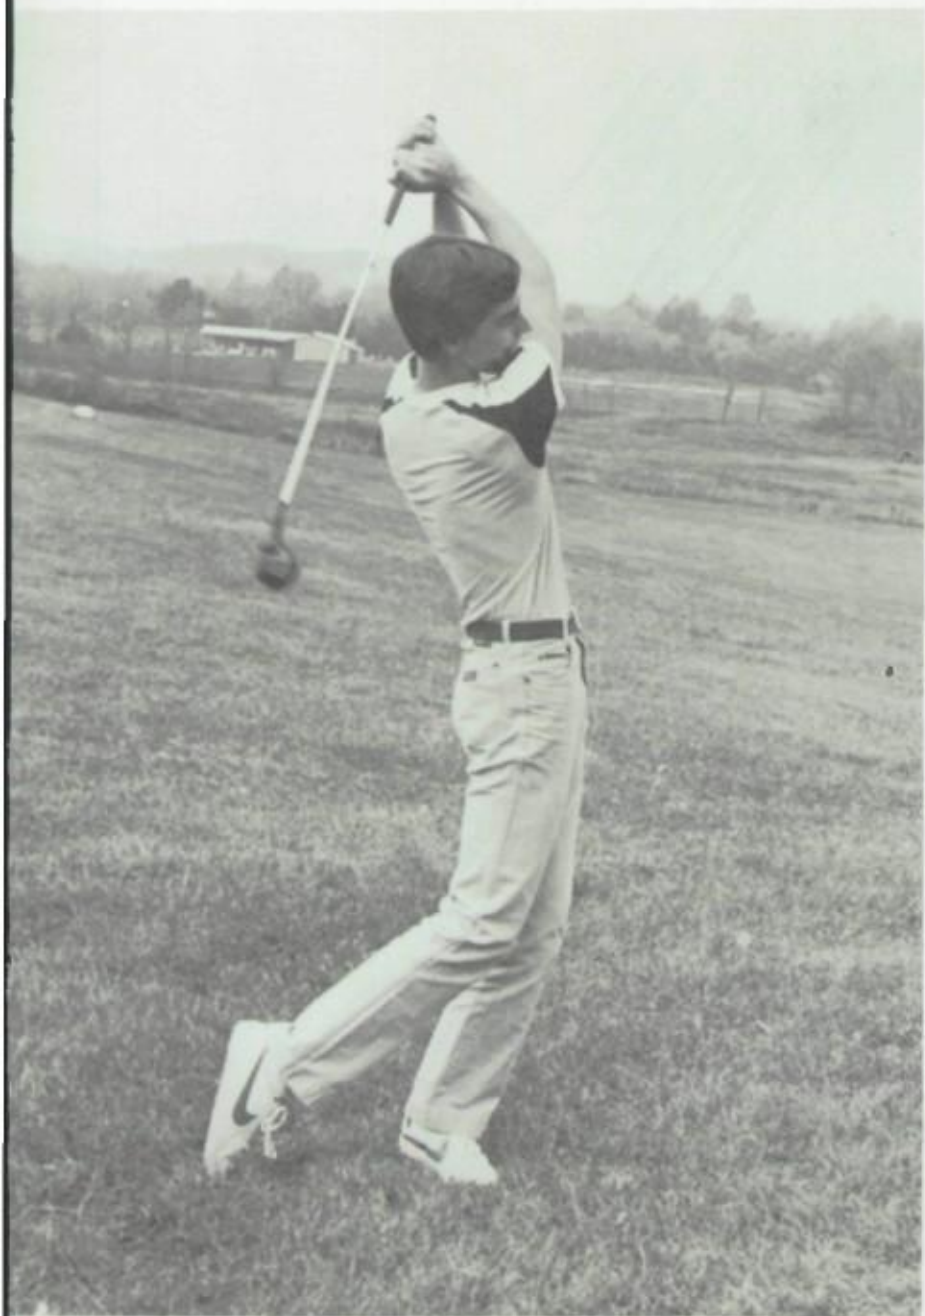

2.

1.

2.

3.

4.

The 1981-83 season was not a kind one to the linksters of Fairless High. The team had a record of 3 wins, 22 losses at the end of the season, using the Elms Country Club as their home base. The team was led by seniors Brian Spurgeon, Ken DeBos and Scott Ruof, and included team members Tony Olivieri, Darryl Kamph and Steve Langenfeld.

1. Steve Langenfeld keenly observes the flight of the ball. 2. Freshman Tony Olivieri takes a practice swing. 3. Scott Ruof concentrates intensely on the ball. 4. Here Darryl Kamph follows through his swing.

CROSS COUNTRY

Compliments of David and Linda Croston

1. Cross Country's purpose in 1981-82 was two-fold; one was to win the A.O.C., the second one was to make sure the school didn't collapse. 2. This is the crew that represented F.H.S. in the area cross country circuit in 1981-82. 3. "Big Lew" drives for the finish. 4. Ed Rentsch paces toward the finish line.

2

3.

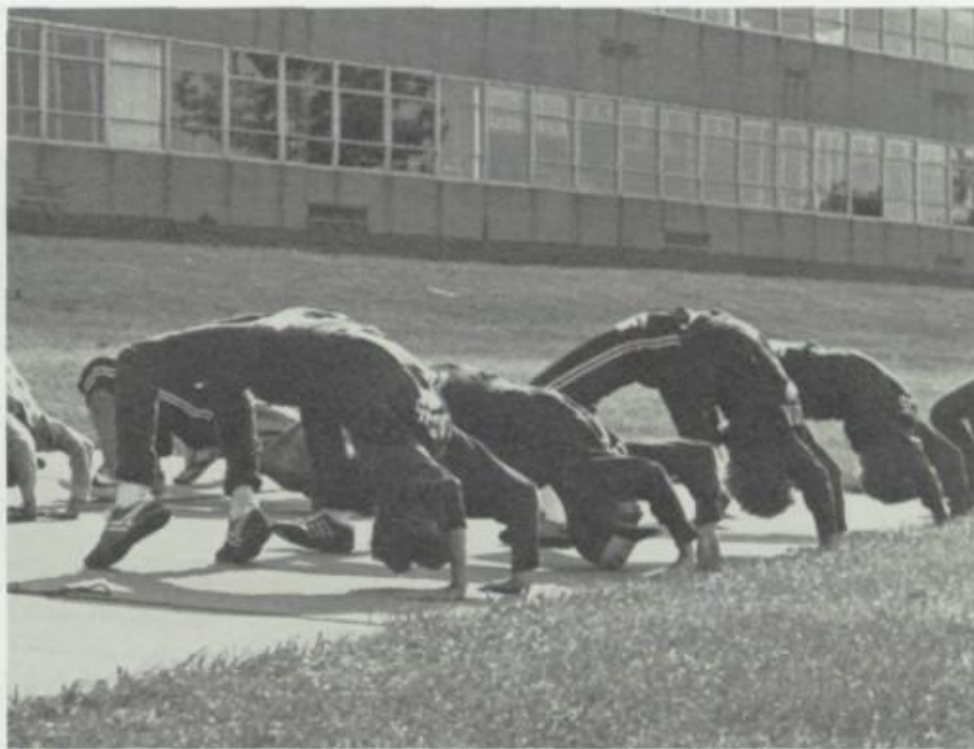

4.

1.

2.

3.

The fall of 1981 was not a good one for the cross country team. The harriers won two this past season, while dropping five decisions. The two victories came against Manchester and Triway. Personal bests for the team came when senior co-captain Lewis Lahr placed first against Manchester, Massillon, and Central Catholic. Joining Lahr as co-captain was fellow senior Ed Rentsch.

1. Got 2. This seems like an awfully hard way to get a look at the blimp! 3. Sandy Lahr proves that running runs in the family. 4. Chris Boone has just one thing on his mind! 5. A weary Ed Rentsch eyes the opportunity for some rest and relaxation.

VOLLEYBALL

Compliments of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brediger

1. Julie Goodman is ready for the ball. 2. Lisa Arney handles the ball with care. 3. Tami Price slams a spike! 4. Coach Weisgarber gives her girls a pep talk.

1.

2.

3.

The 1981 Varsity Volleyball team, under the coaching skills of Mrs. Jeannie Welsgarber, finished the year with a 17-5 record, capturing the A.O.C. crown for Fairless once again. Co-captains senior Holli Bergert and senior Tami Price led their team to first place in the Dover Invitational Tournament.

1. Lori Spurgeon clobbers the ball over the net. 2. Holli Bergert demonstrates her serving ability. 3. In their spare time, the Falconettes collect trophies. 4. Cindy Hewitt chalks up another point for the Falconettes. 5. The Falconettes are ready for anything!

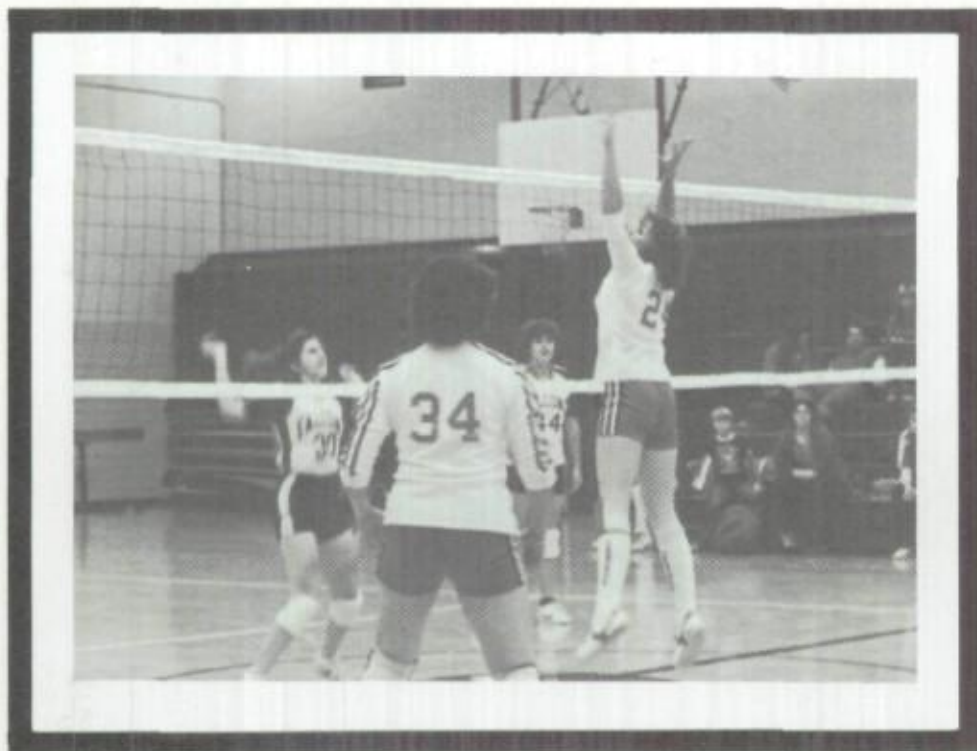

4.

VOLLEYBALL

Compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baltzly & Brad

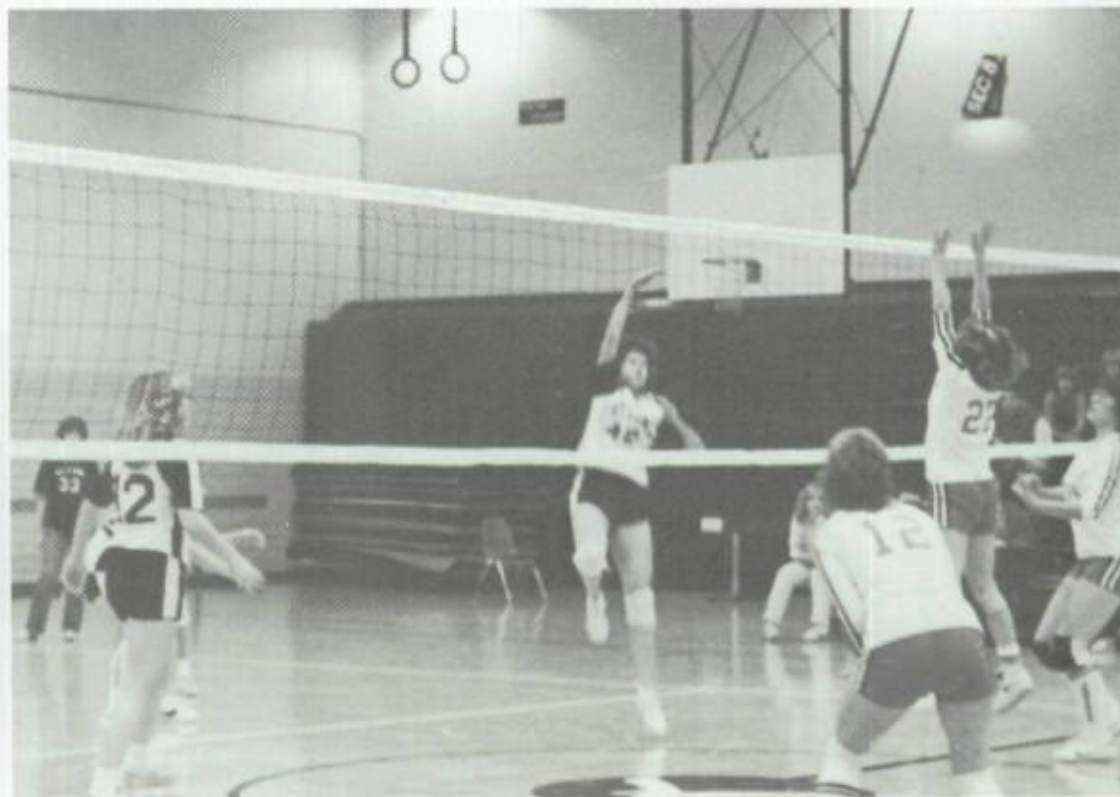

1. Tami Price defends her team's title. 2. Holli Bergert does it again. 3. Judy Drake successfully blocks a spike. 4. The Falconettes overpower the opposition.

2.

3.

4.

1.

2.

3.

Julie Goodman, Tami Price and Lori Spurgeon received the honor of being names to the All-Ohio-Conference 1st Team, with Judy Drake named an Honorable Mention. Julie Goodman was selected the Most Valuable Player having also scored the most points. The Most Improved Player was Judy Drake.

1. Coach Weisgarber certainly has some talented substitutes. 2. When Judy Drake serves, the opponent may be in for a big surprise. 3. The Fairless fledglings finished the season with a winning record, promising more good things for next year. 4. Coach Weisgarber shows off another trophy. 5. Julie Goodman sends another one flying over the net.

4.

5.

CHEERLEADERS

Compliments of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Musacchia

1. Chris Musacchia and Suzanne Hug pause to ham it up at their last home basketball game. 2. Tina Kohlmeier "takes it on the chin" from Suzanne Hug. 3. The cheerleaders enjoyed watching the homecoming ceremonies.

2.

3.

1.

2.

3.

Varsity and reserve cheerleaders took 3rd place honors at U.S.C.A. camp and were invited to bring their winning pom pon routine to Grand National Competition in Lansing, Michigan.

1. The cheerleaders use their smiles to help pep up the fans. 2. Beth Whitehead fascinates the fans with her fabulous kick. 3. Reserve cheerleaders are Tammy Hammonds, Julie Mahaffey, Janice Rabel, Bonnie Whitehead, captain Mary Mirto and Rhonda Pickens. 4. Varsity cheerleaders are Chris Musacchia, Tina Kohlmeler, Beth Whitehead, Wendy Lautzenheiser, Suzanne Hug and captain Diane Pelosi. 5. Varsity cheerleaders present their "good luck" cheer. 6. F.H.S. cheerleaders are "up the stairway to victory!"

4.

6.

5.

CHEERLEADERS

Compliments of Lock, Stock & Barrel

1. Reserves show that Falcon spirit! 2. Silver and blue—comin' through! 3. Tina Kohlmeier and Wendy Lautzenheiser await the arrival of the Flock.

2.

3.

1.

2.

3.

A standing ovation from the student body showed the varsity and reserve cheerleaders how much the students appreciate their hard work. The special occasion was their presentation of a flashlight routine to music.

1. The cheerleaders get the crowd going. 2. Chris Musacchia and Janice Rabel always show their smiles, even when the going gets rough. 3. Falcon cheerleaders psych up the football team. 4. Falcon freshmen cheerleaders are Shelley Burckhart, Tracy Burkhardt, Vicki Snyder, Michelle Bechtel, Leslie Spidle and Toni Manack. 5. Varsity cheerleaders show off their pyramid.

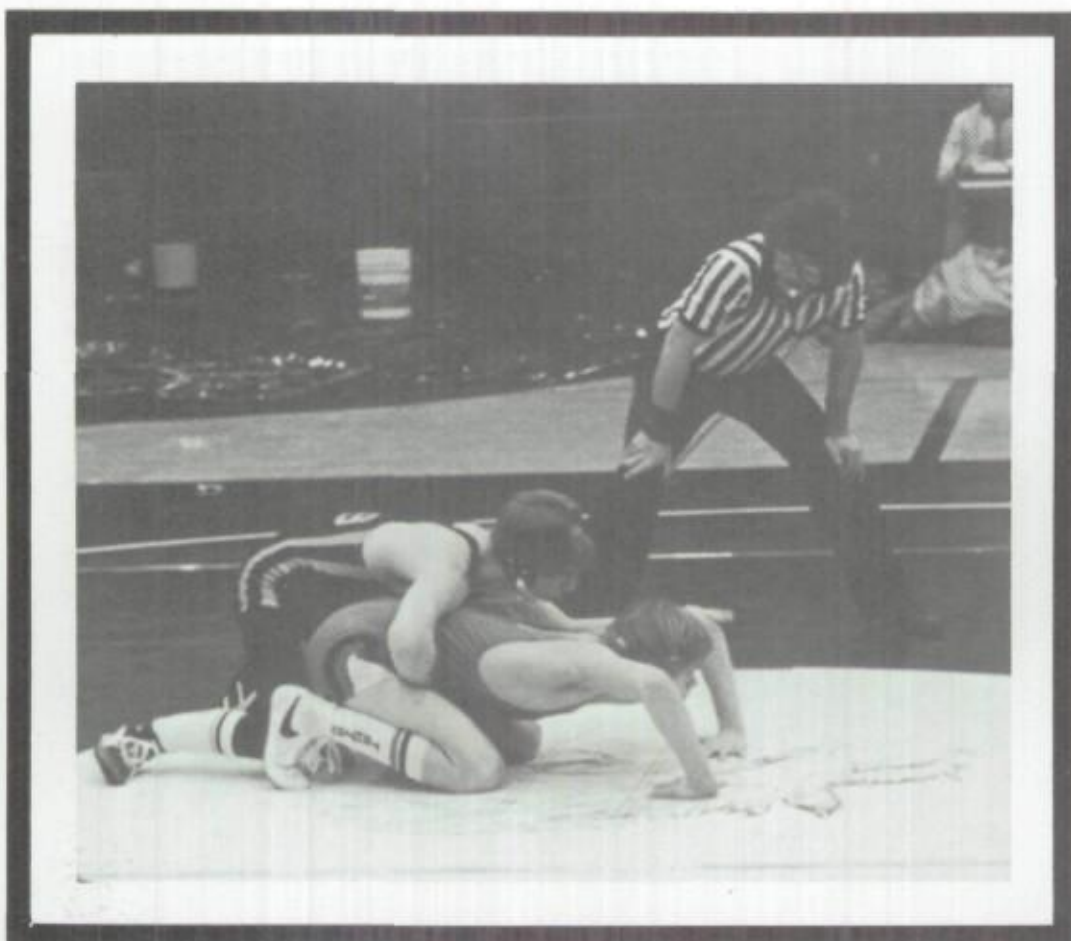

4.

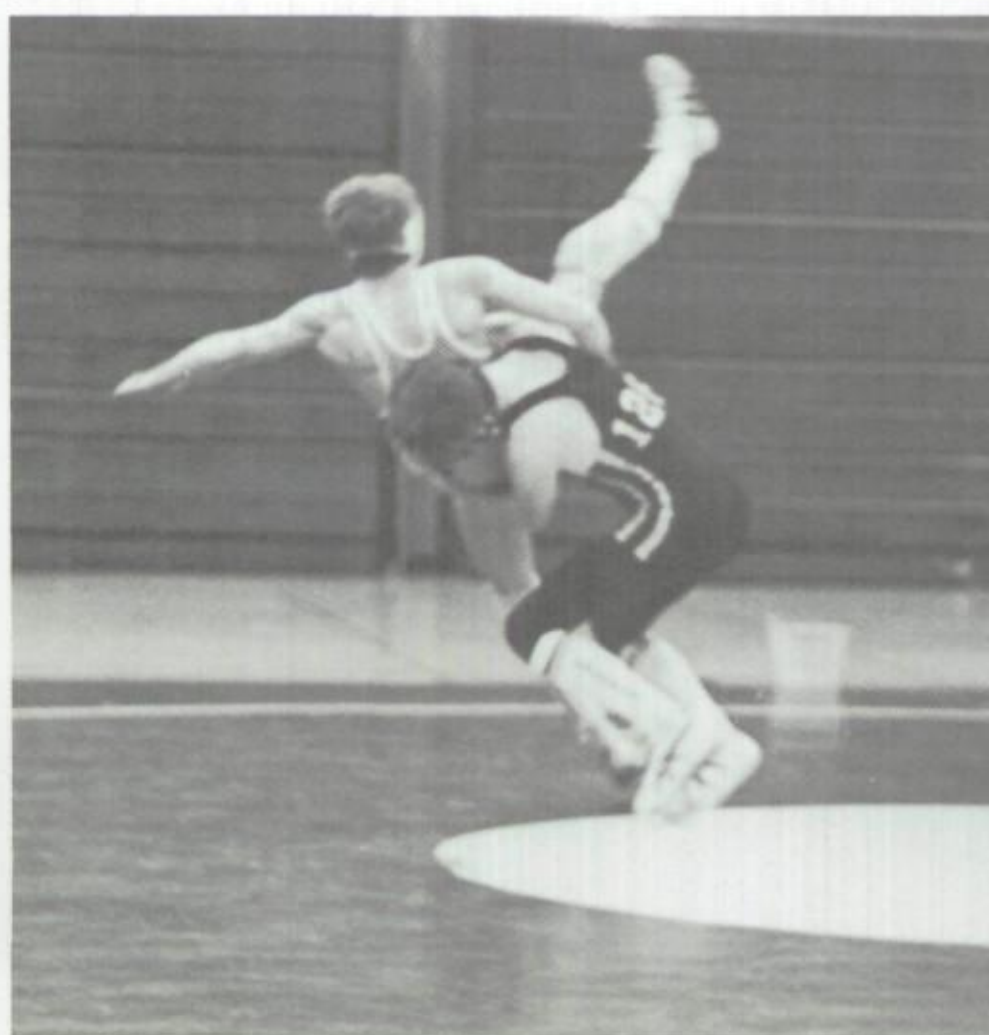

5.

WRESTLING

1. Mike Sessor and his opponent concentrate while waiting for the referee to blow the whistle. 2. Jeff Albright is working for two take-down points. 3. Tom Beck controls his opponent.

2.

1.

The 1981-82 season was one of the best ever for our Falcon Grapplers as they finished with a 6-1 dual record and captured 1st place honors at three of five invitational tournaments. Holding records for the team are: Brett Csonka, takedowns; Tom Beck, reversals; Kendle Smith, escapes; most victories, most pins, most team points, and least pins given up, Tom Beck; and most match points, Mike Sessor.

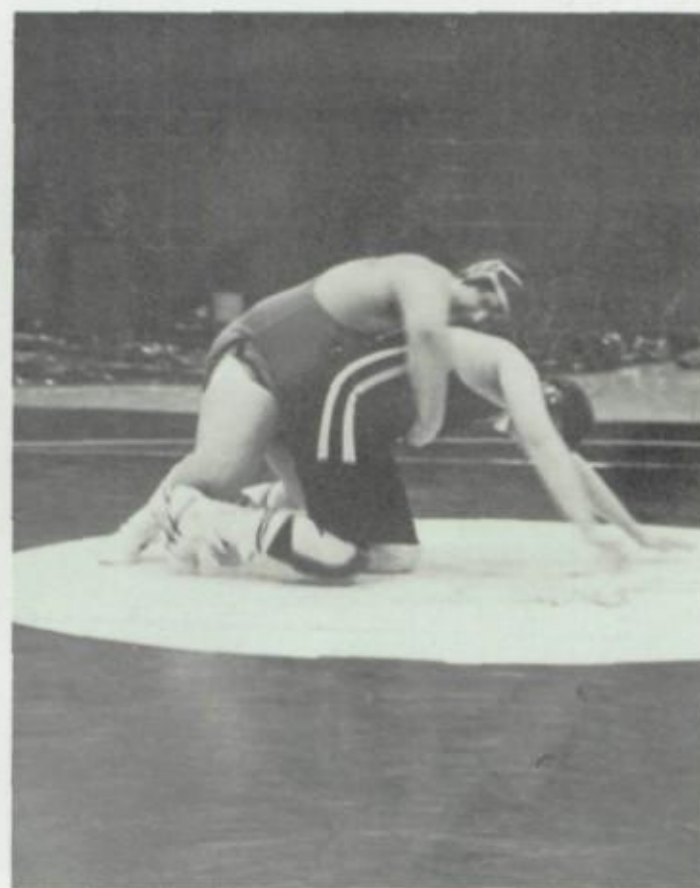

1. . . . and Chip Durham has won his match! 2. The wrestling team takes time out to pose for a team picture. 3. After the A.O.C. tournament at Orrville, the wrestling team decided to ham it up for the camera. 4. Nick Ryan concentrates during his heavyweight match.

2.

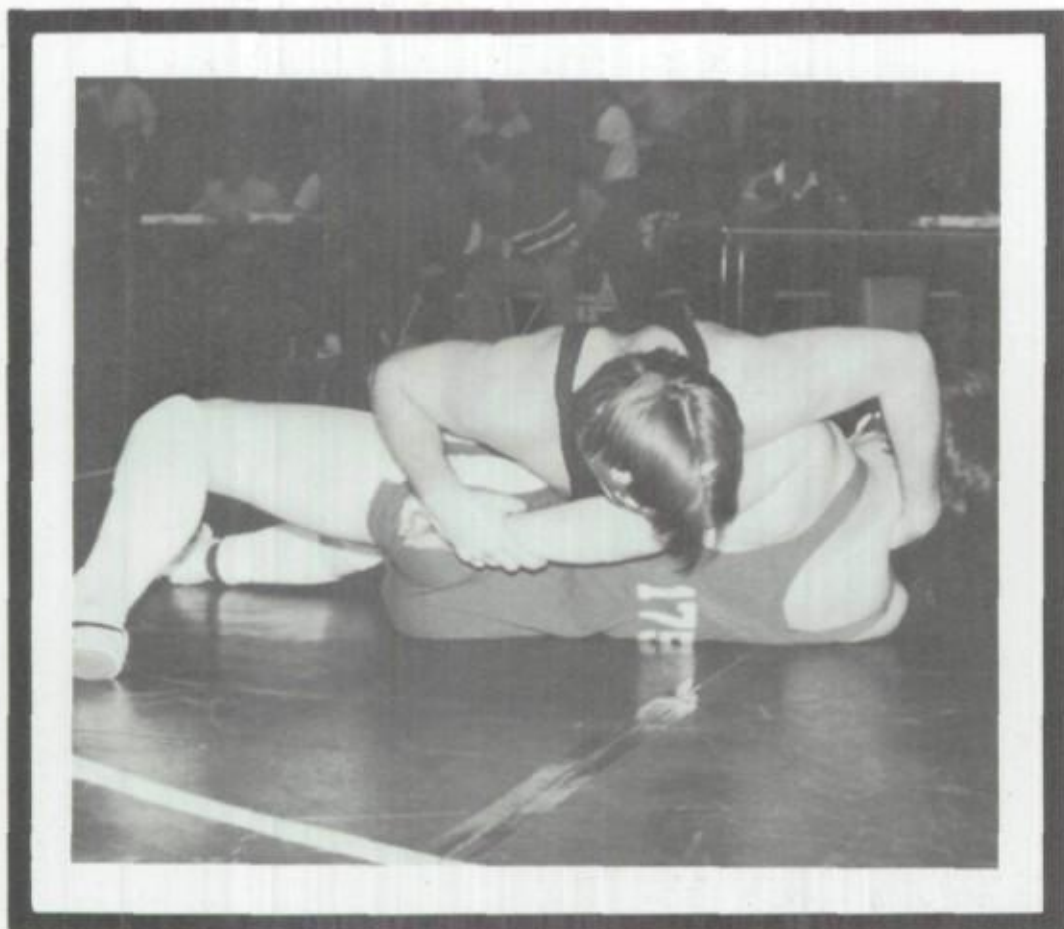

3.

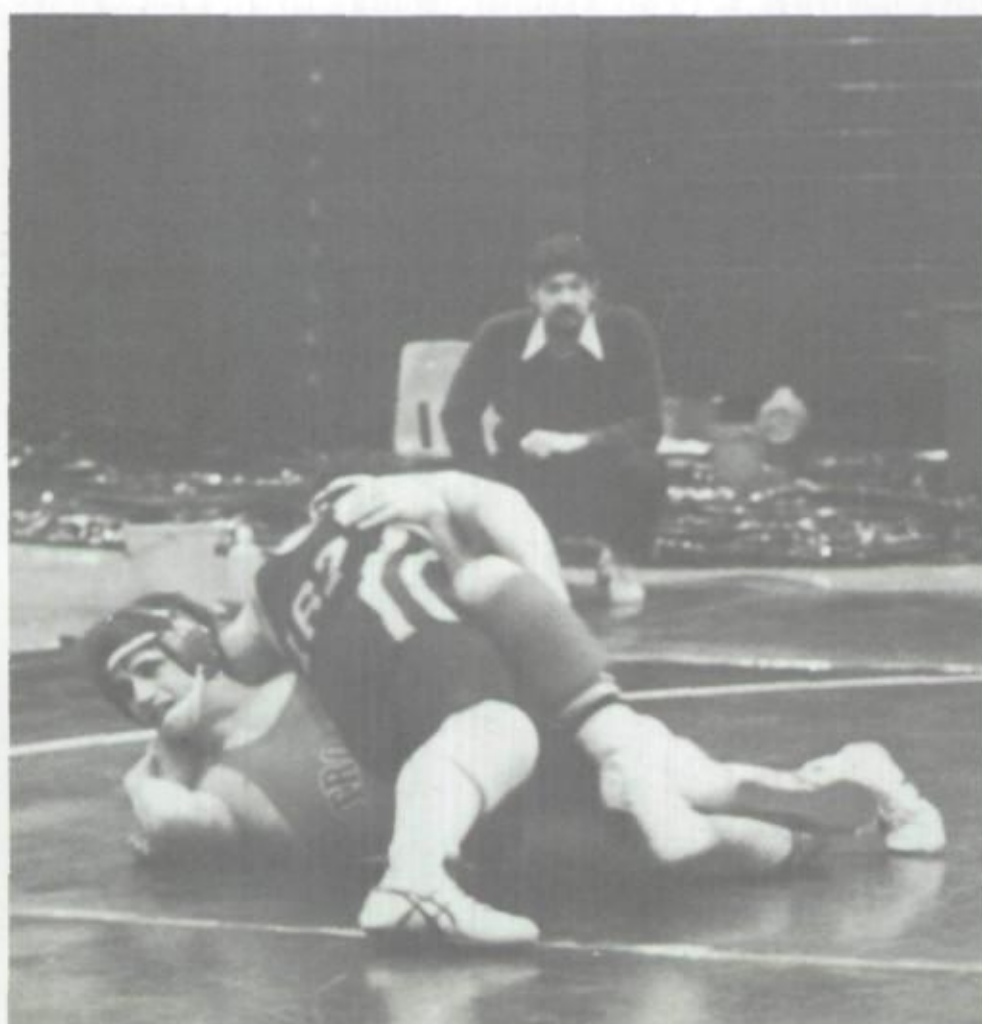

4.

WRESTLING

1. Kendle Smith works to pin his man! 2. Scott Kashuba and his opponent struggle to see who can gain control. 3. Tim Diotale ties up his opponent.

2.

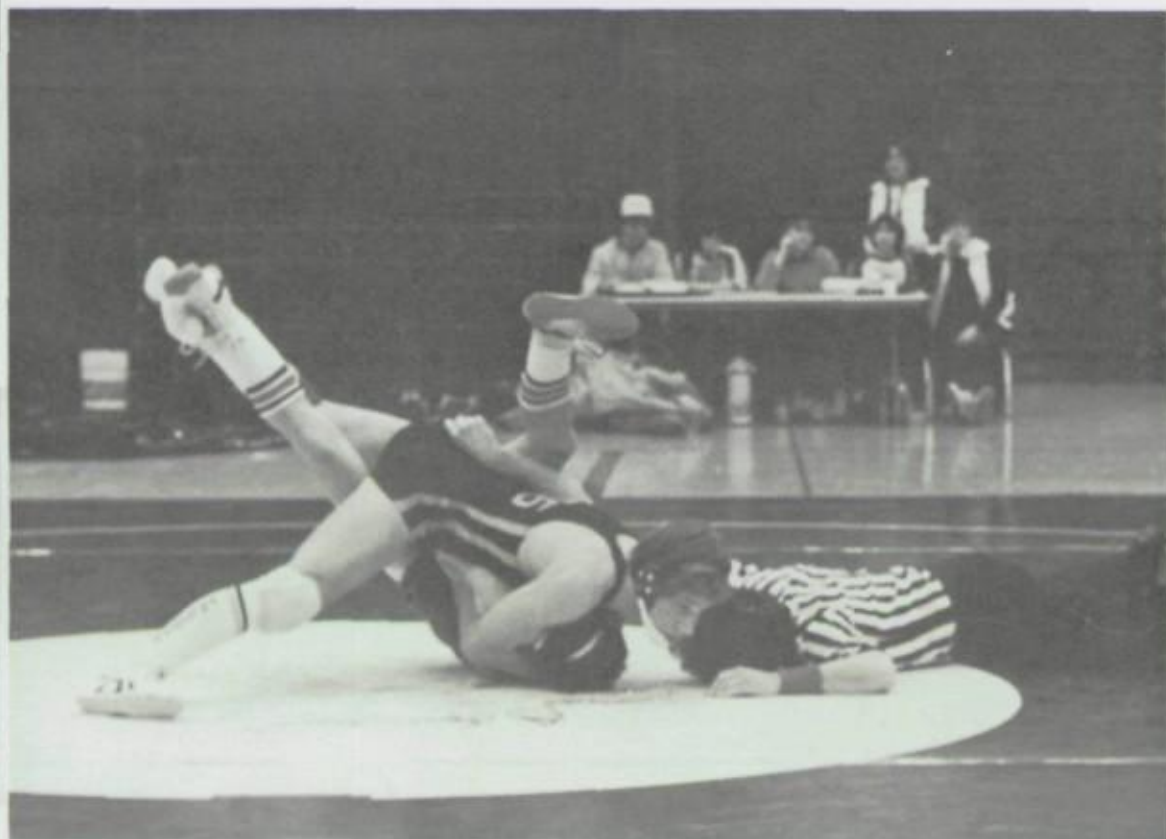

3

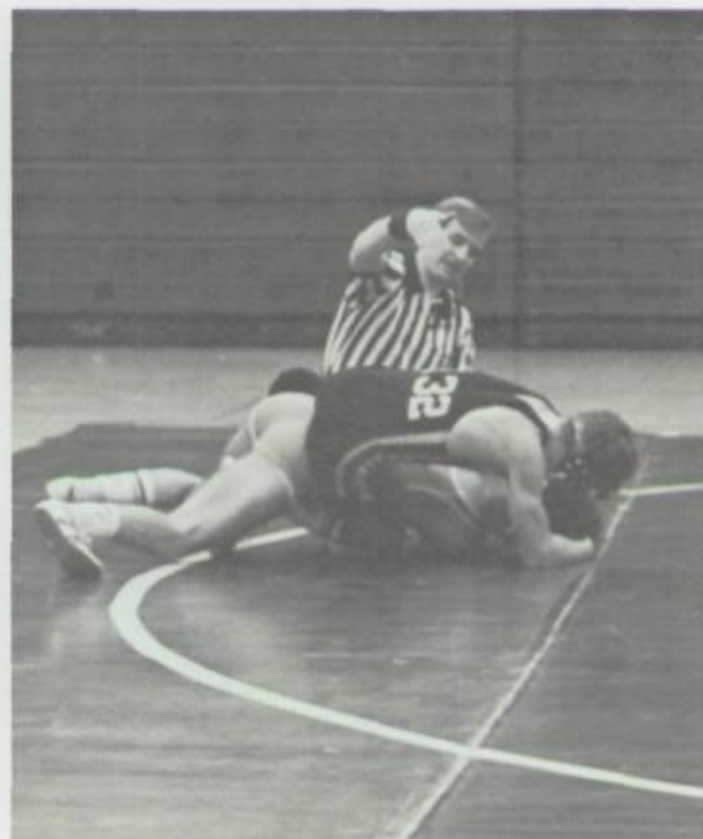

1.

2.

3.

4.

Coach Nielsen was very pleased with the performance of the wrestlers this past season. Serving as co-captains were Mike Sessor, Chip Durham and Tom Beck. Mike Sessor was selected for a scholarship at Mount Union College. Laurie Nofsinger who served as a statistician for the wrestlers received the Stark County Wrestling Scholarship.

1. Matt DiMarzio works for a take-down. 2. Chip Durham goes for a pin! 3. The ref says that Brett Sconka still dominates his opponent. 4. Tom Beck and his opponent seem to be all tangled up!

BASKETBALL

Compliments of Mr. & Mrs. Tim Ungashick and family

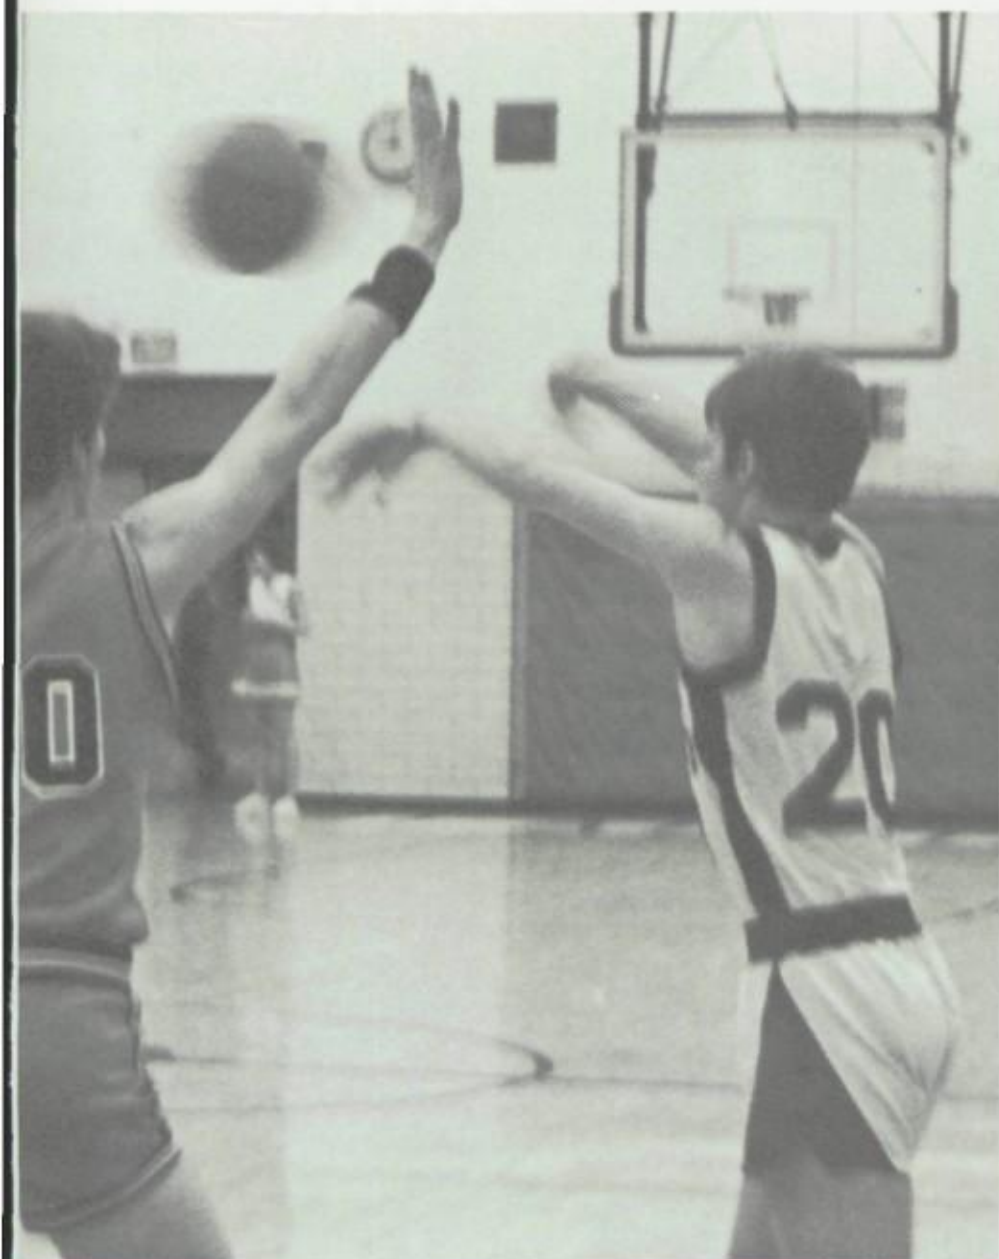

2.

1. Scott Shepler goes up for a block during a practice session. 2. Jeff Klein tries to get the tip against Strasburg. 3. Reserve cagers cast a serious pose.

3.

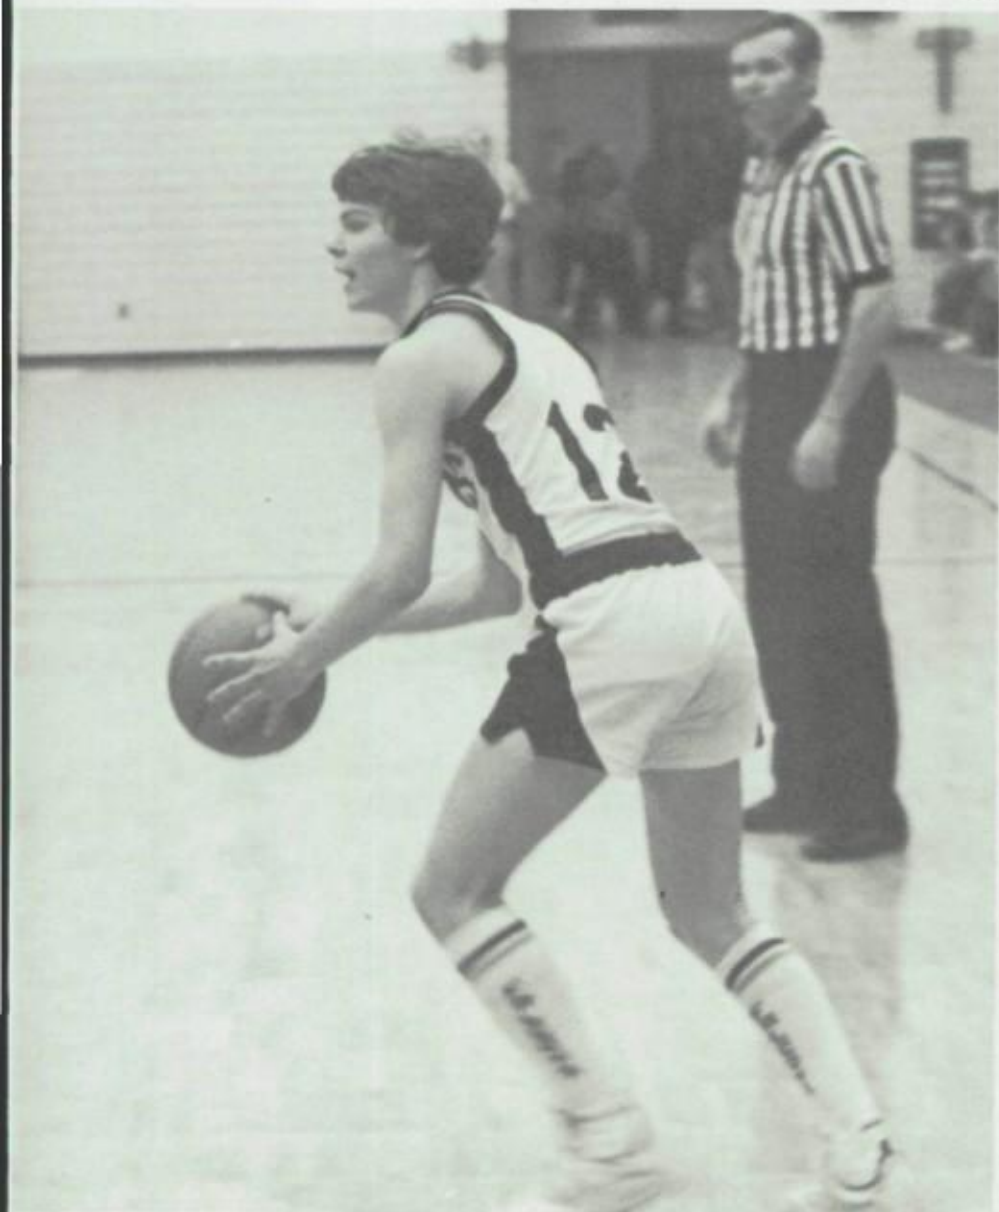

1.

2.

3.

4.

The 1981-82 Fairless Falcons finished the season with a modest 12 win, nine loss record. Some of their wins included a hard-fought, last-second victory over Strasburg, a blow-out in the season finale at Tuslaw, and wins over league foes Manchester, West Holmes, and Triway.

1. Jim Penland whips the ball to a teammate. 2. Jeff Klein looks for the open man. 3. Bob Brown checks underneath the hoop for a receiver. 4. Jeff Klein tries to chalk up another point.

1. Penland speeds around a Strasburg defender. 2. Brian Spurgeon and Jeff Klein set for the rebound. 3. Brian Spurgeon prepares to pass.

Compliments of Mr. & Mrs. Robert L. Gerber, Mike, Greg and Scotty

2.

3.

1.

2.

3.

Leading the team in scoring was senior 1st team all- A.O.C. guard, Jim Penland, pumping in 15.9 points per contest. Leading in the rebounding department was senior center Jeff Klein, who trapped an average of 6.6 caroms per game. Klein was named Honorable Mention in the A.O.C. team choices. Scott Shepler and Tim Schmidt led in assists, each dishing out 2.9 per game.

1. The Falcon team's 1981-82 record was a pleasant surprise, having been predicted as the team to finish at the bottom of the heap in the A.O.C. race. 2. Jeff Klein gets ready to inbound the ball. 3. Tim Schmidt passes outside.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Compliments of Tom and Emma Copodonna, Emma Marie, Theresa, Virginia, Melody and Joe

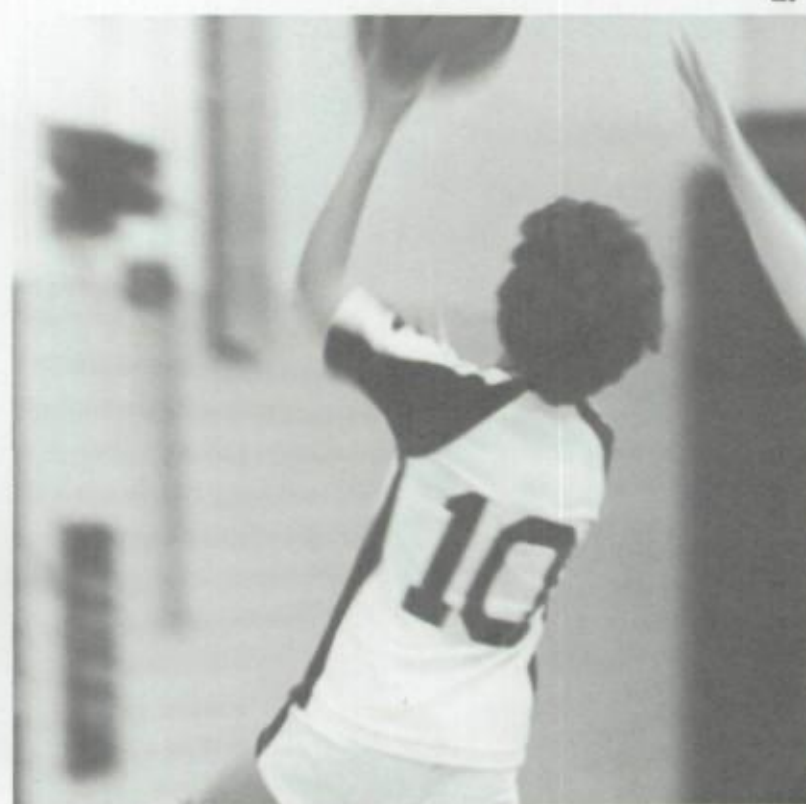

1. Captain Therese Musacchia greets the visiting Knights. 2. The Falconettes await the start of another exciting game. 3. The Falconettes ended their 1981-82 season with a record of 10 wins and 11 losses. 4. Therese Musacchia goes in for the lay-up.

2.

3.

4.

1.

2.

3.

The Falconettes ended their 1981-82 season with an overall record of 10 wins and 11 losses. Many of their games were close down to the buzzer. Their tournament dreams were scratched out by the Norwayne Bobcats, as the Falconettes were defeated in the first round of the sectional tournament.

1. Debbie Linerode seems to be out-jumping her opponent. 2. Donna Sibley shoots for two. 3. Therese Musacchia and her opponent struggle for the ball. 4. Debbie Linerode overpowers her opponent, who comes up empty-handed. 5. Julie Goodman gives it her best shot.

4.

5.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Compliments of Majors Milk Cartage

1. The Falconettes scramble for the ball. 2. Julie Goodman takes control of the jump ball. 3. The 1981-82 reserve basketball team ended the season with an impressive 17-3 record. 4. Debbie Linerode ups the score two more points.

3.

March 15 the winter sports banquet was held at Fairless High School. Captain Therese Musacchia was awarded the Most Valuable Player trophy, while Julie Goodman was named Best Foul Shooter. Debbie Linerode earned honors as both Best Rebounder and Most Improved.

1. Debbie Linerode gives it her all. 2. Holli Bergert looks for help. 3. Debbie Linerode struggles to rid the ball to a teammate. 4. What's the big hold up? 5. The tension is high while waiting to see who recovers the ball.

4.

5.

1.

GIRLS' TRACK

Falconette track continues to improve at Fairless. This year the girls improved both their season record and their A.O.C. standing. Twenty-two of the 26 girls participating are freshmen and sophomores, indicating high hopes for the future years. During the season, 25 of the 26 team members scored points for the Falconettes. High point person was senior Tami Price who once again earned the distinction of qualifying for the Regional Competition.

1. Tami Price works to maintain her record-breaking speed. 2. Jeanette Mullane gives it all she's got! 3. Amy Diotale casts an unusual shadow as she makes her jump. 4. These Falconettes take a shade-break during the A.O.C. meet.

1. Kris Engle works to complete her leg of the race. 2. Junior Darlene Ehmer moves with the wind. 3. Bobbi Leach works to stay ahead of her opponent. 4. Kathy Guy is off and running. 5. Freshman Vicki Snyder shows her jumping techniques. 6. Dina Olivieri is up and over the low hurdles. 7. The young Falconettes find 1982 a year of improvement.

1.

TRACK

Compliments of Mrs. Wanda Weisgarber and Doug

2.

1. Senior trackster Scott Shepler sails over the high bar set at 6'3" . . . again. 2. Pole vaulter Ken DeBos is up and over! 3. Jerry Ungashick is well on his way to the finish line. 4. You can see the concentration on Sean Hartong's face as he readies himself to throw the shot put.

3.

4.

This was truly a successful year for the 1982 track team. The Flock ranked second in the A.O.C. Highlights included Scott Shepler's high jump, the relay's team's first-place finishes and Doug Weisgarber's speed.

1. Doug Weisgarber crosses the finish line first — as usual. 2. Lewis Lahr struggles to push ahead. 3. Chad Agnes strives to make this his longest jump. 4. Scott Shepler leads the pack in the hurdles. 5. The Falcon Track team poses for a group picture. 6. Jerry Ungashick concentrates on his upcoming jump.

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

BASEBALL

1. Catcher Scott Silvestri casts a winsome glance toward the dugout. 2. Tim Schmidt, Joe Reidenbach and Johnny Hughes look worried about an upcoming batter. 3. A Falcon swings for the fence. 4. A joyful sight — a Falcon victory!

Highlights of an otherwise disappointing Falcon baseball season included a 4-3 win over rival Orrville. Scott Silvestri was named to the all A.O.C. team and Tim Schmidt received Honorable Mention. The Flock looks forward to next year as many of the team members will be returning.

1. Scott Silvestri tries to throw out a man at second. 2. Doug Fowler and Todd Arney are the epitome of a close-knit team. 3. First baseman Todd Arney heaves one toward home plate. 4. The Falcon baseball team has high hopes for next year. 5. Falcon Coach Terry Griffith wonders where all the guys have gone.
